

Aurora Partridge is a native Nevadan. She attended the University of Nevada, Reno, and obtained her Master's in Library Science from the University of Texas, Denton. She is a public librarian for the Washoe County Library System and has worked at the Downtown Reno Library and the Spanish Springs Library.

Aurora lives with her family in Reno. She enjoys asking you what you're reading, walking the dog, watching movies with her family, and reading books. She supports local libraries, access to information for all, and the freedom to read.